Let us begin by saying, - well done!

At Shopify, we strive to create a dynamic workspace where people can be at their best in a team-based environment.

When we create new space, we trust our chosen designer to understand our needs and our thinking. Once the designs are set, our trust extends to the construction manager to bring the designs to life.

The Shopify Montreal 2018 project once again raised the bar. We are very pleased with the dedicated attention to detail and the skill and experience provided by both your construction and millwork teams to manage this project and achieve this innovative and creative space. The many finishes and features were built out to exacting standards and now provide us with the environment we knew conceptually only a few months ago.

It has been a pleasure to work with you on this and past projects and we would welcome the opportunity to work with you again.

Sincerely,

Shopify Real Estate Team
